Vanguard has a proven track record for delivering high quality, high value data services coast-to-coast. Our Decommissioning Services recycling and disposal program provides a secure and reliable way to manage your organization's obsolete, inoperative and unwanted items.

Responsible asset recovery practices are vital, and we recognize the importance of satisfying our clients' needs while protecting the environment and fulfilling regulatory standards. Vanguard's asset recovery services are customizable to your specific requirements, and come with our full satisfaction guarantee.

VANGUARD

secure and discreet data services you've come to trust

Our end-to-end decommissioning program encompasses the entire process from on-site audit and collection to removal of items from offices or industrial facilities.

As you vacate your facility, our focus is meeting all back-end requirements necessary to ensure your company receives its complete security deposit, and is not charged with hold over penalties and costly fines.

Our services include:

Space Restoration The original terms of your lease specify the condition by which your space must be returned to the landlord to enable full vacancy. We return your space to "broom swept" condition to ensure full compliance of your lease and return of your full security deposit.

Asset Disposition This service includes the liquidation, recycling and disposal of office furniture, racking, and EOL equipment.

Cable Removal We remove voice and data cabling associated with phone lines, computer networks and server rooms to ensure compliance with the National Electric Code.
